Particular uncertainties that could materially affect future results include risks associated with: the COVID-19 pandemic, which has disrupted, and will likely continue to disrupt, normal business activity, and which may have an adverse effect on our results of operations; any loss of our significant customers and fluctuations in the timing and volume of significant customer demand; our dependence on contract manufacturing and outsourced supply chain; our dependency on a limited number of suppliers; government regulations and administrative proceedings, trade restrictions and trade tensions; global economic conditions and concerns; global political and economic conditions; our significant indebtedness and the need to generate sufficient cash flows to service and repay such debt; dependence on and risks associated with distributors of our products; dependence on senior management and our ability to attract and retain qualified personnel; any acquisitions we may make, such as delays, challenges and expenses associated with receiving governmental and regulatory approvals and satisfying other closing conditions, and with integrating acquired companies with our existing businesses and our ability to achieve the benefits, growth prospects and synergies expected by such acquisitions; involvement in legal proceedings; quarterly and annual fluctuations in operating results; our ability to accurately estimate customers' demand and adjust our manufacturing and supply chain accordingly; cyclicalities in the semiconductor industry or in our target markets; our competitive performance and ability to continue achieving design wins with our customers, as well as the timing of any design wins; prolonged disruptions of our or our contract manufacturers' manufacturing facilities, warehouses or other significant operations; our ability to improve our manufacturing efficiency and quality; our dependence on outsourced service providers for certain key business services and their ability to execute to our requirements; our ability to maintain or improve gross margin; our ability to protect our intellectual property and the unpredictability of any associated litigation expenses; compatibility of our software products with operating environments, platforms or third-party products; our ability to enter into satisfactory software license agreements; availability of third party software used in our products; use of open source code sources in our products; any expenses or reputational damage associated with resolving customer product warranty and indemnification claims; market acceptance of the end products into which our products are designed; our ability to sell to new types of customers and to keep pace with technological advances; compliance with privacy and data security laws; our ability to protect against a breach of security systems; fluctuations in foreign exchange rates; our provisions for income taxes and overall cash tax costs, legislation that may impact our overall cash tax costs and our ability to maintain tax concessions in certain jurisdictions; and other events and trends on a national, regional and global scale, including those of a political, economic, business, competitive and regulatory nature. Many of the foregoing risks and uncertainties are, and will be, exacerbated by the COVID-19 pandemic and any worsening of the global business and economic environment as a result.

Our filings with the SEC, which you may obtain for free at the SEC’s website at <https://www.sec.gov>, discuss some of the important risk factors that may affect our business, results of operations and financial condition. Annual Financial Data*

* FY16 represents combined full year Avago Technologies Limited results and contributions from the acquired Broadcom Corporation business beginning on February 1, 2016. FY17 represents Broadcom Limited historical results. FY16 and FY17 operating income has been recast to reflect the presentation requirements of the pension accounting literature adopted in FY19. Broadcom Inc. is the successor to Broadcom Limited effective April 4, 2018. Non-GAAP results have been adjusted for the items included in the appendix, as described in the respective captions. The non-GAAP adjustment for diluted shares excludes the impact of unrecognized stock-based compensation expense expected to be incurred in future periods, which would otherwise be assumed to be used to repurchase shares under the GAAP treasury stock method. For FY16 through FY18, the impact of outstanding exchangeable limited partnership units in Broadcom Cayman LP and for FY19 and FY20, the impact of the mandatory convertible preferred stock were antilutive on a GAAP basis. We have included those units and preferred stock in the non-GAAP diluted shares and related non-GAAP adjustments.
